

INTER-CITY RELATIONS easily can get out of whack, if proper communications between cities is not established or when communication breaks down.

A case in point that really bugs us is that four-block stretch on W. Campbell Ave. just west of Hunt Way to just east of Kim Louise near San Tomas Road.

While that area on the south of Campbell Ave. in that stretch is in the city limits of San Jose, the north side is in Campbell. Then east of San Tomas Road (Kirkwood Plaza and the Los Ranchitos tract) areas both north and south of Campbell Ave. are in Campbell.

The four-block strip is the northern boundary of the infamous Cherry Lane annexation of San Jose in the '60's when the area was still undeveloped.

San Jose, at that time, was involved in an aggressive annexation program swallowing up uninhabited parcels wherever and whenever available.

When Campbell wasn't looking, so to speak, San Jose shot through an opening on the west and picked up a huge parcel of then orchard land that was bounded by the City limits of Campbell on three sides.

That is why those residents on such streets as LeMoine, Acapulco, Montezuma, Via Salice, etc., although Campbell-oriented with their kids in Campbell schools and actually "living in Campbell" for all intents and purposes are residents of the City of San Jose.

Of course, it doesn't make sense.

But the people who live in that area had no choice in the matter.

SAN JOSE GOBBLED UP the section under the annexation law that allowed areas with 12 or less registered voters to join a city without any election.

And, remember, at the time that was all mostly orchard land.

And trees don't vote.

UNDER THE PRESENT laws governing annexations, the Cherry Lane annexation couldn't happen today.

An agency called LAFCO (Local Agency Formation Commission) is now in existence. This agency approves or disapproves proposed annexation before they can get off the ground.

Today the expansion steps must be based on logic.

But in the '60's it was catch-as-catch-can and San Jose had the horses.

The county map clearly shows that.

Campbell took San Jose into court.

But San Jose's horses again proved too strong and the annexation stood.

A glance at the map shows how utterly illogical San Jose's action was in face of the present development and services offered by the two cities.

While we concede that Campbell should have closed the door before San Jose broke through on the western front, it was probably that Cherry Lane fiasco, and others like that, that caused state legislation to be enacted which now prohibits such antics.

So we suppose Campbell could be classified as a martyr in that respect.

But martyrdom has never been our bag.

We recall that we jumped up and down, (figuratively speaking) in our editorials at the time of San Jose's action.

We claimed that it was unfair to the people who eventually would live in that section. They would think they were in Campbell. They would try to become active in community affairs only to find

Campbell dedicates new civic center

Campbell citizens gathered some 600 strong on Saturday, Sept. 25, under ideal weather conditions to participate in the dedication program of their new $1.2 million city hall.

In a simple but impressive ceremony in which kids and flags predominated the scene, the attractive and functional city hall was "presented" to its citizens and the pride of the citizens in the new civic center was clearly evident as they trooped through the edifice after the dedicatory program.

The pictorial presentation on the front page depicts some of the highlights of the memorable occasion.

Who they are ---

The Campbell Press photographers (Sally and George) were busy people at the dedication of the new city hall on Saturday, as the 26 pictures that appear on the front page in this issue will verify.

Other shots of the memorable occasion appear elsewhere in the paper.

tures is Norm Paul, president of the Chamber of Commerce, opening the program at 11 a.m. as master-of-ceremonies. The other photos are of the crowd and the speakers' stand.

on the left, and his daughter, Louise Rodolfa, on the right. Cava, who worked tirelessly for this community in the '50's and '60's, was manager of the Chamber of Commerce for a number of years. Cava suffered a stroke 10 years ago and has been partially paralyzed since that time and confined to

Be prepared---

Those of you who have "followed" The Campbell Press will recognize one of our favorite themes when we emphasize again that there has been nothing in the history of the town that has made the impact on the community as much as the case of the "Towers and PruneYard".

All of you, of course, must concede that something has been going on at the intersection of Campbell Ave. and Bascom that really is outstanding.

But there are many probably who feel that the PruneYard-Towers is just another center located within the city limits of Campbell.

And what's new about that?

Let's tell you what's new.

And maybe all of us will be a little better prepared this next month (October) when the whole shebang hits us.

Acting Police Chief Don Burr and the police department will have to be concerned with the traffic problems that are going to be created when the PruneYard next month stages its grand opening festivities. We predict it will be a major problem.

That's the first hurdle to be crossed.

It is our opinion, based on the information that is available, plus the fact that the format is pretty well established, that traffic control and traffic flow will be the major concern of the Campbell police when the PruneYard really "opens up."

The grand opening ceremonies of the PruneYard will be "big time." Campbell is not used to that. It has never happened before on such a scale.

Therefore, we have a lot to think about.

For example, there will be a tremendous amount of traffic dumped on Campbell Ave. and on Bascom Ave.

Conversely there will be a tremendous amount of traffic dumped from Campbell Ave. and Bascom Ave. onto the PruneYard.

We are not sure just how all this "flow" will be handled.

We sincerely believe, however, that there will be a traffic problem (or problems) and that every effort should be made to prepare for it.

If, of course, that is possible.

Let's look at it this way.

Over the years there have been parades and activities that have needed police control in this community.

But, in our opinion, those functions have been of a minor league in nature, as compared with what the PruneYard promotion in October will generate.

"You ain't seen nothin' yet."

Everything about the PruneYard during October will be major league and with that concept will come people. With people, unfortunately, at the ratio of two-to-a-car, the traffic situation will be horrendous.

We sincerely believe that the Campbell Police Department is fully capable of controlling the situation in an efficient manner.

But one thing stands out like a signal light.

There is no precedent to go by in this city.

People (and cars) will mass at the PruneYard in Campbell.

It will not be just for one hour or for four hours.

It will continue over a five-day span.

We submit that the PruneYard-Towers festivities in October, which launches the naming of "Miss PruneYard", is just the beginning of the "impact" we have been telling you about for the last three years.

We concede that the many other shopping centers in Campbell have important roles in the overall development of this area.

We are well aware that there is more to Campbell than the PruneYard and the Towers.

What we are trying to say, of course, is there has been nothing in the history of this community that can compare to the dramatic impact that has been made by the PruneYard-Towers development.

No longer is it necessary to draw a map to locate Campbell.

Just tell 'em to get on the freeway and head for the "Towers."

That development has already made its impact on the area.

But when the grand opening festivities begin, look out!

So, as the Boy Scouts say, "let's be prepared".

MORE ABOUT

that their city hall was miles away in downtown San Jose, instead of just down the road a piece in downtown Campbell.

All our editorial rantings and ravings went for naught, of course.

But it did give us a background about the area in question.

And when we hear that San Jose traffic police officers from time to time set up radar speed controls in that four block span (with Campbell jurisdiction on both ends) we blow again.

You might say our latent fuse relights.

Then again you might say something else.

IT IS DIFFICULT TO ENVISION that with the hundreds of miles of metropolitan San Jose to patrol, the radar boys of San Jose would be directed to set up shop in an area extending only 2270 feet (according to scale) with Campbell city limits on either end.

Maybe the traffic control people don't know how to read maps.

Of course, it could be a deliberate action to provoke the citizens of this community.

This is one citizen they have provoked.

And that's where this intercity relations bit comes into the picture.

It is difficult for us to believe that with all this talk about mutual assistance, cooperation between municipalities, improving communications, etc., such a development would occur.

We are not condoning speeding on that street.

But Campbell police travel through that "part" of San Jose many times daily. We think they are capable of controlling 2270 feet of roadway without the help of San Jose radar.

We have a hunch that this column somehow will find its way to the high brass of the San Jose police.

So we will drive with caution.

Just "show us the way to San Jose."

THE PRESS HAS APPRECIATED the many commendations that were received concerning our special 24-page city hall dedication supplement that was part of last week's issue.

The plaudits the staff received compensated to a great degree the hard work that went into it.

We are all glad you liked it.

One of the features in the special concerned the background of Dr. Edward J. Rogers, who has served longer on the City Council than any other person to date.

He announced that he would not be running for reelection when he completes his third term next April, and we thought that it would be timely to sort of single him out because of his seniority on the Council.

Ed's wife, Madeleine, was a great help to us in furnishing much of the background material for this feature on the "dean" of Campbell's City Council.

Incidentally, some party submitted that the Campbell Council was unique in having two "deans".

Rogers is "dean" because of his length of service.

And there is another "dean"....i.e., Councilman Chamberlin, who has been a "Dean" ever since his birth.

If Chamberlin stays on the Council long enough, maybe we can report him as "Dean the dean".

Mayor Ralph Doetsch will also have three full terms of council service when he completes his current term in 1974.

And Ralph already has a couple of distinctions to mark his Council career.

He is the first councilman to have served two terms as mayor with intervening years between his terms.

And Ralph is the only councilman in the history of this city to have been elected by a write-in vote.

He was elected in that manner in 1962 when he led the balloting.

AS MENTIONED LAST week the dedication supple-

Council to meet next on Oct. 12

Campbell's "first team," for the most part, was absent from the city hall the first part of the week as many of the members of the official city family were in San Francisco attending the annual convention of the League of California Cities.

Because of the convention, the City Council met on Tuesday, Sept. 21 instead of Monday, Sept. 27.

The Planning Commission will meet next Monday, Oct. 4, but the Council will meet on Tuesday, Oct. 12, because Monday, Oct. 11, is an official city holiday, following the new format that tries to get holidays on weekends. (For your information, the holiday in this instance is Columbus Day.)

And the Council will meet on Tuesday, Oct. 26, instead of Monday, Oct. 25 because of Veterans Day.

A jam-packed agenda is anticipated for the City Council on Tuesday, Oct. 12, as the meeting on Sept. 21, only a week after another meeting had a relatively short agenda, plus the fact that some matters were continued.

Action on the controversial eight-story building planned for Llewellyn and Hamilton Avenues was one of the items continued until Oct. 12. The Planning Commission had twice rejected the plans for the building and the matter is now before the Council for final action.

ment was a joint effort with the staff getting tremendous cooperation from many people.

Among those we cited last week was Bruce Powell, of the city planning staff, who furnished us some excellent photos.

We were so intent on giving Bruce credit for his pictures that in one photo "Bob Rigby", former assistant planner who is now urban planner for the State of Nevada, was identified as "Bruce Powell".

Bruce took the picture. We apologize to both of 'em.

THREE SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENTS, Jim D'Avis, Nick Montesano, and Jim Hardy, were featured at the CofC luncheon meeting last Thursday.

All three gave excellent reports on their respective educational fields, elementary, high school and junior college.

We were impressed by their poise and articulation.

Jim Hardy did become a little involved in describing the new model program by adding an extra dimension. But we didn't know any better either.

We were pleased that not once did any of the three educators resort to the gobbledook vocabulary cloak often used by educators, which is termed "educationalese" in semi-polite circles.

It also has been described in less flattering terms.

One of the groups chit-chatting before the program is pictured next. Also pictured is Campbell's famous Model T fire engine that has been completely restored and just behind it was parked Campbell's brand new $50,000 pumper.

ON THE FAR RIGHT is a distant shot of Dr. Corwin H. Olds, pastor-emeritus of the Campbell Congregational Church, who gave the invocation.

IN THE THIRD ROW are pictured some of the youth groups of the community that were much in evidence at the program participating in the massing of the colors. Present were representatives from Boy and Girl Scout organizations and the Santa Clara County Council of Camp Fire Girls.

Shown also is the Campbell High School band, directed by Clarence Savage. The band helped to a great extent in making a success of the program.

DRAMATIC PICTORIAL HIGHLIGHTS of the program appear in the fourth row.

IN AN EMOTION-PACKED MOMENT, ON THE LEFT, Mrs. Connie Morgan, wife of Police Chief John D. Morgan, and the Rev. W. H. (Ben) Gould, unveil the plaque that will be placed on the police wing which is dedicated to Chief Morgan who was stricken on February 13 and has been paralyzed since then.

Prior to the unveiling the Rev. Gould summarized the many activities of the stricken chief and what they had meant to this community. Mrs. Morgan responded briefly and received a standing ovation from the crowd.

Next is the plaque that will be placed on the building which was unveiled by Mrs. Jeanette Watson and Don Hebard, representing the citizens' groups that united in 1967 to pass the bond issues that made the city hall possible. Members of the City Council assisted at the unveiling.

ON THE FAR RIGHT, Hilton Hoyt, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hoyt and a sixth-grade student of Dover School presents to Mayor Doetsch a replica of the time capsule that will be placed in the clock tower.

Income derived from special kiddies' matinees provided the major portion of the funds that were raised to finance the clock tower.

City residents get free trash pickup on Oct. 8

Residents within the city limits of Campbell have just nine days to prepare for the free rubbish clean-up service that is offered semi-annually by the Green Valley Disposal Company.

The pickup will be on Friday, Oct. 8, only for customers of Green Valley residing in the City of Campbell. Residents are requested to place the debris on the curb in front of their residences by 7 a.m. A similar service is offered in the spring each year.

All debris must be placed in boxes, metal containers, or plastic bags tied shut, and light enough for one man to carry. Trimmings must be bundled in four-foot lengths.

No items such as furniture, appliances, boxes of dirt, or rocks will be picked up.

Residents are also advised that if they have an old trash can or garbage container that they want removed, a note of instructions should be placed on it.

PruneYard plans big festival

Activities at Campbell's famed PruneYard-Towers, which has already become a landmark of this community, now are moving at an accelerated pace in preparation for the Grand Opening Festival scheduled for Oct. 21-25.

The First Annual Miss PruneYard Festival will launch this month's event which will span a four-day period. The queen, who will be crowned Oct. 24, will also reign over each of the four other festivals that are planned to take place during 1972 at the PruneYard.

Details of the queen contest as well as an entry blank appear in an advertisement in this week's Press on page 7.

The four-day festival, of which the queen contest will be one of the highlights, will also feature 10-hours of free entertainment in the Grand Plaza every day.

Huge furniture store to come to Campbell

Action on the plans for $1.6 million furniture store consisting of 157,000 square feet or building area plus 400 parking spaces on Hamilton Ave. at Salmar will be deferred until Planning Commission meeting on Oct. 18.

The plans were originally scheduled to be before the Planning Commission next Monday, Oct. 4.

The plans for the huge furniture store have been submitted by Federated Furniture, an affiliate of Federated Department Stores, one of the nation's largest firms in that field, owning many of the department stores in the Bay Area.

The store will be located on the triangle parcel bounded by Hamilton, the freeway and Salmar, formerly occupied by O'Neal and Ellis.

One of the highlights of this next Monday's agenda of the Planning Commission is the application of Dr. John Font, of the Institute of Communication Disorders, for a use permit to convert a residence at 106 E. Campbell Ave. into an office.

In another matter, Eichler Homes is asking for a zone change from P-D (planned development) to R-2-S for property on W. Hamilton Ave. The P-D was placed on the property when the plans for a townhouse complex were submitted. The firm has indicated that it does not plan such a development now.

COORDINATOR — Bennett E. Gates, 31, an electrical engineer with a background in nuclear engineering, has been appointed as an assistant county coordinator of emergency services by County Executive Howard Campen. Emergency Services formerly was called Civil Defense.

Gates replaces Braxton (Gene) Small, of Campbell, who retired Aug. 31. Small has been an Army colonel when he joined the County's Civil Defense staff in 1967.

The new assistant coordinator is one of two who work under the direction of Frank Holt, the coordinator of emergency services.

DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

The new 1971 Winter dart season is upon us, with the first games going to the boards this evening. To get warmed-up for the season, Scarlet La Rue's challenged the Lancashire Lad for their A division challenge plaque. Last Friday night's match was an 18 game affair.

The La Rue's were behind six games to four when the cyclone hit. From that point, they could do no wrong. They won the next six games. This won the match and the last two games were not played.

The La Rue team has won the South Bay Championship for the last two seasons and it looks as if they are the odds on favorite to take the title this season.

NEW SEASON

The two leagues of the Northern California Darts Assn. that cover this area are the South Bay and the El Camino. Both leagues cover the peninsula as far north as Burlingame. There are 22 teams involved. The Primrose Lanes is the farthest north. Three teams play out of the "Rose." A couple of blocks away in San Mateo and new to the Assn. this year is the Lava Pit. Their team is called the "Lava Points."

I should mention that the "Rose's" teams are the "Ban-shees" and the "Spear Chucks." The "Rose" III team does not have a name.

A little closer to us but still in San Mateo is the Prince of Wales. Ken Gilley's new Fish & Chips shop, near the Fairgrounds, will have two teams on the circuit this year.

SCUTTLEBUTT MISSING
Missing from competition will be the Scuttlebutt in Mountain View. Some of their players have moved over to Andy Capp's in Sunnyvale. This should strengthen the Capp's team.

Also missing is Menlo Park's the Dutch Goose. Most of the "Goosers" moved up to the "Rose". Phil Albers came south and joined the Scarlet La Rue team in Los Gatos. Another player moving south was Paul Schultz who joins the Banbury Clock I after two seasons with the Scuttlebutt.

HOME TOWN TEAMS

The Gaslighter Theater has dropped a team and will field two teams this season, "The Reruns" and "The Villains." The Black Knight is down to one team since several of its players have moved out of town.

The Lancashire Lad in Los Gatos will still have four teams including their all-girl team. Scarlet La Rue's and the Black Watch have both added a team to field two each. New to the Assn. is the Club Gato.

Last but not least, the Banbury Clock will have two teams. Their number one team lost the services of Des Maples, who moved back to England and Roy Haslam, who is now playing for Lancashire Lad I.

We will now see if the summer's horse trading has paid off for these teams.

The Wage-Price Freeze

Questions and Answers

Internal Revenue Service

Q - I'll be getting out of the Army in two weeks and returning to my old job. Can I receive the pay increase I would have gotten if I had not been in the Service?

A - Yes. Veterans returning to their pre-military employment during the freeze are entitled to all the increases they would have received had they not served in the military. Employees are hired at the pay scale in existence during the 30-day base period of July 16 to August 14.

Q - I'm a teacher. During the summer I received my master's degree and, as a result, I was to receive a pay increment this fall. Can I still get it?

A - Yes. Pay increments for teachers who receive their master's and other scheduled pay raises dependent upon employees completing certain educational requirements may be paid during the freeze, because these actions are bona fide promotions. The employer, however, must be able to certify that such an agreement was in existence.

If the effective date of the teacher's contract is after August 15, the increment must be no more than the amount that was granted last year.

Q - Can my city government increase rates for gas and electricity?

A - No. State or local governments may not increase charges or fees for government-provided services. However, state and local tax rates, and fees for licenses or legal penalties, such as traffic tickets, are not frozen.

Q - Can merchants pass on to consumers the cost of an increase in state or local taxes?

A - No. This is not permitted during the freeze.

Cougar Corners

by Chris Rodgers

Students returned to Camden to be flooded with changes.

The first big change noticed was the modular schedule system. Students found out that their first period class was actually second period and that the "A" period was now first.

Another big change was in the study hall system. Heretofore, all study halls have been quiet, boring places to students who haven't any school work to do. But now, thanks to James Crawford, principal, and Ernest Lee, dean of boys, a program was started called the "Flexible Study Center."

Students report to one study hall for roll, then are given the choice of staying in the "quiet" study center or going to the "free" study center.

In the "free" study hall, a student can type, listen to music, read magazines, work with friends or just talk with one another.

Many new faces appeared with the old. Aside from the freshmen, Camden greeted eight new teachers; Mrs. Chris Bellum, Typing and Business Law; Mrs. Kathy Clifton, English I and Journalism III and IV; Mrs. Anna Johnson, German and English; Mrs. Linda Plumber, Business Math; Mrs. Kathy Stine, Home Economics and English I; Tom Sweeney, U.S. History, World Civ. and Physical Education; Gail Williams, Physical Education and Frank Hiendricks, World Civ. and Physical Education.

Along with the new teachers, Mrs. Lula Baheri, English and Spanish teacher has returned to Camden after a one year absence.

Changes in the Physical Education Department were the addition of co-ed activities, such as tennis, badminton and volleyball. Other new activities include golf and bowling.

Camden will sponsor its first dance Friday, Oct. 1, featuring the "Dutch East India Company" at 8 p.m. in the Camden High Cafeteria.

Amateur radio makes waves

A ham-fest in the Sierras was one of the recent activities of the West Valley Amateur Radio Association. The club meets at eight on the first and third Wednesdays of every month at the Red Cross Building, 18011 Saratoga-Los Gatos Rd., Los Gatos.

Local musical group will give show in new theater

The San Jose Children's Musical Theater, sponsored by the Cabrini Community Theater, will hold final registrations and auditions for its Winter Workshop, to produce "Oliver," "Hansel and Gretel," and "Little Red Riding Hood," in January of 1972, this Saturday, Oct. 2 from 1-4 p.m. at the St. Frances Cabrini Hall on Camden Ave. There is a registration fee of $5.

"All of the roles in these shows and the chorus of over 100 youngsters are still open," said director John P. Healy, Jr. Any young people between 6 and 21 years of age who are interested in developing singing, dancing, and acting talents are urged to register and participate.

In addition to the performances in the end of January and early February, "Oliver" has been invited to participate in the pre-opening festivities of the new five million dollar, 2700 capacity San Jose Community Theater in January. The cast members of "Oliver" will be the first young performers to use these facilities and perform a full-length musical comedy there!

In the past year, the San Jose Children's Musical Theater has involved over 600 youngsters from the San Jose-Campbell-Cambrian area in eight productions, playing to a combined audience of over 5,000 enthusiastic theatergoers.

In addition, their reputation has grown nationwide, with audiences coming from not only the Bay Area, or even California. Mr. and Mrs. Don Eisenberg of Brooklyn, New York, already planning a trip to California this summer, read of the SJCMT in a publication, and ordered three tickets to the "Wizard of Oz" for a San Jose afternoon stay at the San Jose Children's Musical Theater.

For further information about the upcoming workshop, call 371-0232 or 377-6818.

SMILING IS CONTAGIOUS—Members of St. Lucy's Youth Council, have smiled their way into involvement with Agnew Hospital patients, migrant farm workers, and many local teens. The council is open to all area high school age youth regardless of religious affiliation. Here some of the young people take a few minutes out from their regular meeting at the home of Don Dean, one of their advisors, who is standing at the right in the rear of the picture.

St. Lucy's Youth Council brings smiles to many faces

by Barbara Price

Interest, involvement and insight are key words for the young people of St. Lucy's Youth Council, an active group now in its third year.

Jim and Alice Phillips, Don and Jean Dean, and other adult advisors for the youth council agree that the various youth council activities are run for teens, and by teens, while adult guidance is kept to a minimum.

Officers of the council include Jim Hillyer, president; Mary Bizjack, vice-president; Mark Sylva, secretary; Cindy Ruhnke, treasurer and Ken Jercha, social committee chairman.

There are about 125-150 kids that come to the large, local activities like the monthly dances, while about 40 active workers participate in the central, social, communication and spiritual committees.

Proceeds from a recent dance went to the John Morgan fund, Campbell Police Chief who was stricken last February.

Recent youth council activities include a bike trip, a large dance with the popular "Goody Two Shoes Band", a barbecue for migrant farm workers at Morgan Hill, and car washes held whenever the financial need arises.

One of the most meaningful activities of the youth council is their involvement with the Agnew State Hospital patients.

The Youth Council first showed their concern for the patients when they hosted a special Christmas party complete with presents, Santa Claus and a band last year. Since then the council has sponsored several other activities for the patients, including an Easter party.

Several of St. Lucy's youth also provide special music for the patients every Sunday, to enliven the services of the Agnew Chapel.

Young people from the youth council who have gone over to Agnew, and made friends with the people there find that they receive richly—from giving of their time and concern.

As Ken Jercha put it, "You get a good feeling when they look up at you with their sad faces, and make a peace sign in response to yours."

Future plans for the youth council include a ski trip, two dances a month, an international dinner, and a trip to a Buddhist Temple.

The council is open to all area high school age youth regardless of religious affiliation.

Campbell Capers

On Saturday, Sept. 25, Campbell crushed the Sunnyvale Jets with a score of 27-0. Quarterback Steve Garrido scored the first touchdown on a four yard run in the first quarter to start the Bucs off to a winning night. A 27-yard pass to Kelly Davis brought it down to the ten-yard line, where Steve Davis blasted it into the end zone.

A conversion followed, and the score was 14-0 at half-time. Forty seconds into the second half, a 69-yard touchdown pass was thrown to Kelly Davis. To end the game Steve Davis scored a nine-yard run touchdown which made the final score 27-0. Campbell's frosh-soph football team were defeated 20-0.

SUPPORT STRIKE

Concerned with the plight of the Jefferson Classroom Teachers, the Campbell Elementary Teachers Association's Board of Directors and Representative Council has voted unanimously to support the Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association in Daly City, according to Herb Wadley, CETA president.

Both monetary and physical support has been rendered to Jefferson Elementary Classroom Teachers by the Campbell Elementary Teachers Association.

THAT'S HOW IT WAS—Four young ladies who attended the City Council dedication ceremonies last Saturday found their interest captured by the display of pictures in the new city hall by the West Valley Historical Society. The display, near the entrance to the police wing, included pictures of early Campbell, Ben Campbell, the founder, and members of other pioneer families.

Obituaries

CARNE BRADSHAW
Funeral services were held last week for Carne Clinton Bradshaw, who died in a San Jose Hospital. He is survived by a son, Mark; a daughter, Martha and his wife, Thelma, of 135 S. Jane Ann Way, Campbell.

Bradshaw, born on Feb. 3 1912 in Coalgate, Oklahoma, was employed as a steam-fitter for Falstaff Brewing Corp. for 27 years.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Outstanding students and teachers at the College of Dentistry at the University of Nebraska were recently honored with awards and scholarships.

Among the award recipients is Dallas E. Isaksen of Campbell, who received an award from the Block Drug Company and the C. V. Mosby Company.

Bringing up fido

No animal should suffer condemnation or ill treatment just because his "pedigree" is doubtful, but some people do go to extremes to try to create breeds which simply don't exist.

Some dog owners play a game.

The game is called: "My dog is a"

Then, according to the owner's mood and circumstances, the dog becomes: 1) a rare breed; 2) a rare combination of breeds or 3) an old fashioned version of a popular breed.

Printed standards on how a certain breed should appear actually contributed to this because the inexperienced can read anything they want into the dog's description.

I've seen wiry little terriers whose owners had been told were shepherds and had others tell me their little "mop flops" or "daisy" dogs were Old English Sheepdogs.

One of the funniest situations occurred when I was visiting a large Welsh Corgi kennel and a man brought over his "corgi."

Looking out over the yard of uniform, type animals, he condemned them all and informed the owner, who is the breeder of many champions, that his (the visitor) had the only "true" corgi.

Mixes are mixes.

No dog is "half" Shepherd and "half" Collie—he's a Shepherd/Collie cross and breeding to pure Shepherds or Collies is not going to change that.

(There is an exception, but it is a controlled breeding program and done only under scientific studies.)

Ads in the paper frequently are seen for Lhasa-Maltese and other combinations.

These are mixes and while they generally make lovely pets, are no longer purebred dogs and cannot be "purified" or registered.

That doesn't make them any nonetheless canine citizens, but I would not suggest breeding them.

Reminder: did your female dog get out while she was in season?

Run, don't walk, to your veterinarian. He can give her a shot to prevent conception.

A Family Affair

Nothing beats the sheer fun and stimulation you get from a ride on a Schwinn bike. More and more healthy, hearty outdoor enthusiasts are losing themselves to the charm and excitement of modern cycling.

The young in heart are turning to bicycles to get the best out of life. You see them everywhere . . . happy, healthy people who know the benefits of regular exercise.

"We ought to replace the automobile with bicycles . . . it would be better for our coronaries, our disposition, and certainly our finances."

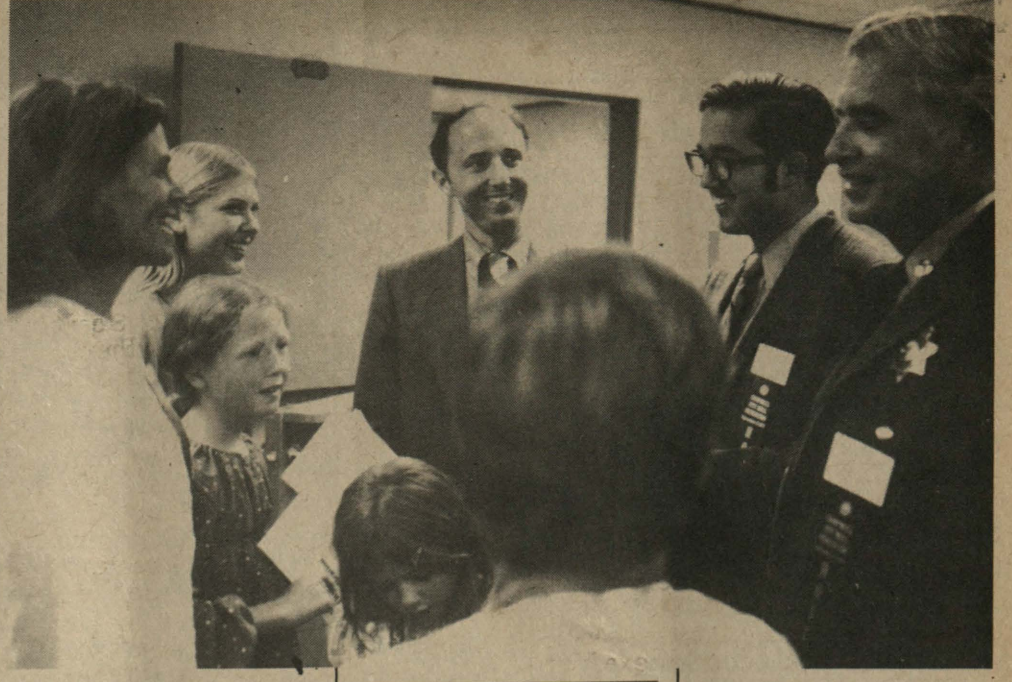

. . . Dr. Irvine H. Page, president, American Heart Association."

"I think the bicycle is one of the great unappreciated vehicles for good, wholesome exercise that can be continued to a considerable age."

. . . Dr. W. W. Bauer, director emeritus, Bureau of Health Education, American Medical Association."

Bristlecone pine forest dates back 4000 years

You can go back more than 4,000 years if you travel to the top of the White Mountains bordering the Owens Valley on the eastern side of the Sierra Nevada.

Here the bristlecone pine lives in a remote forbidding land that rises almost 12,000 feet and is a seemingly dead mass of wind-scoured trunks and twisted limbs.

For all of their vast age these bleakly tan, gray, reddish, and white trees are stunted giants which were growing 1,000 years before the oldest giant redwood broke from the soil.

As you travel up Westgard Pass, east of Big Pine, look west for a view of the Palisades with their sharp peaks towering above their glaciers, says the California State Automobile Association.

Tilted layers of bedrock are exposed by the streams which flow down from White Mountain as the road travels through impressive narrow canyons. This rock is several million years older than the granite of the Sierra Nevada.

From the turnoff at Westgard Pass the pinyon-juniper forest is soon replaced by timberline trees, limber pine and bristlecone mixed together. As you travel higher, only the bristlecone survives.

trees' great age, Dr. Edmund Schulman. Here atop the White Mountains he discovered the oldest tree of all, 4,600-year-old Methuselah.

Two trails lead to the oldest trees with a half-mile hike over easy trail to Pine Alpha, the first 4,000-year-old tree which Schulman dated. It's a two-mile hike along Methuselah Walk and the other many ancient.

The land of the bristlecone has no streams, almost no underbrush and most of the trees in the forest are less than thirty feet tall, although some may be as much as fifty feet high.

If you look down you will find you are stepping on small plants whose colors blend in well with the rock. Most are in bloom during July and August with their blooms of lavenders, silvers, pale yellows, gray greens, tans, pinks, rusts and dull reds.

Always growing slowly, the bristlecone in dry years just endure their harsh gravelly soil, adding only a microscopic ring, perhaps only adding an inch of growth in 100 years.

Further up the mountain, beyond Schulman Grove, is the Patriarch, with a circumference of 36 feet 8 inches and only 1,500 years old. Unusual in this area are the "pickaback" trees that grow not up but sideways and adding circumference but not height.

Colored artichokes may brighten the dinner hour

If Marvin J. Snyder, Santa Barbara County farm advisor, has his way, artichoke lovers soon may be faced with tough decisions—whether to buy a green, maroon, rose or mottled artichoke.

Snyder's ideas for adding a new dimension to California artichoke culture came from Italy where he spent his sabbatical leave.

In Italy artichoke research is highly advanced. Snyder discovered 250 varieties with highly desirable growth and flavor characteristics growing there.

Most of America's artichokes, grown mainly in California are Globe artichokes, and they look like a green pine cone.

As a followup to Snyder's Italian research, test plantings of 100 varieties are in progress at Guadalupe, San Mateo County and U. C. Davis.

Influenced by Italy's colorful crop, California's artichoke culture is on the brink of a new era that may add substantially to the state's agricultural economy, according to O. W. Fillerup, vice-president of the Council of California Growers.

The meeting will be held in the new campus center dining room on the Saratoga campus. Mrs. Cassius Miller and Mrs. John Millikan, members of the American Association of University Women, will do a humorous satire on women's liberation during the meeting.

Newly elected officers of FW-2 are: Mrs. Eugene Nyquist, president; Mrs. Donald Stoner, vice-president; Mrs. Raymond McCall, secretary; Mrs. Leroy Lowery, treasurer; Mrs. Fred Barnikel, ways and means chairman; Mrs. Thomas Perry, parliamentarian; Mrs. James Sturrock, faculty representative; and Mrs. Ian Webb, publicity chairman.

Snow has a higher water content in warmer climates, thus snow in the Sierra is heavier than the snow of the Rockies.

Scholarship deadline nears

Applications for State Scholarships ranging from $160 to $2000 are now available from the District Office of Assemblyman Richard D. Hayden of 525 W. Remington Dr. in Sunnyvale.

More than 9,600 scholarships will be available for the 1972-73 school year and deadline for applying is November 19, 1971.

To be eligible, a student must be a resident of the state and a high school graduate by the summer of the year of the award, or have been accepted for admission by an accredited college.

The financial status of the student's parents is the primary consideration in determining financial eligibility.
